FERNS OF TENNESSEE
(WITH THE FERN ALLIES EXCLUDED)

Jesse M. Shaver, Ph. D., Sc. D.
Emeritus Professor of Biology and Formerly Head of the Department of Biology, George Peabody College for Teachers, Nashville 5, Tennessee

At last, after more than 13 years' work and 50,000 miles travel along the roads and trails and through the woods and swamps of all of the counties in Tennessee, Dr. Shaver has gotten out his fern book.

In a review of the first chapter, Some General Notes on Ferns, when it was first published (Jour. Tenn. Acad. of Science), the late Dr. C. A. Weatherby of the Gray Herbarium at Harvard University wrote:

Dr. Jesse M. Shaver . . . has produced a veritable vade mecum for amateurs in ferns, at least if they happen to live in or visit Tennessee. It contains, within the limits of a 25-page article, sections on the folklore of ferns, their life history, the making of blueprints and other such "nature prints" of fern leaves, the names of ferns (with an interesting little essay on the pronunciation of the Latin ones), photographing ferns, fern gardens, and growing ferns from spores. There are instructions at once concise, clear and in considerable detail for all of these activities which require them. In addition there is a good account, with map, of the chief floristic areas in Tennessee, lists of the species of ferns most characteristic of each, and a bibliography. It is hard to think of anything a beginner in the study of Tennessee ferns would need to know about, including the Fern Society, which is not touched upon.—American Fern Journal, 33 (1):34, 1943.

Pages xviii plus 302, with 248 numbered and 3 unnumbered figures.
Price, $6.00, with 15 cents postage extra after December 1, 1954
(Edition limited to 1100 copies)

A Science Curriculum

Especially arranged for preparing teachers of science. The prospective teacher may get as much as three years in one science (Biology or Chemistry), two years in a second science, and one year in the third science, with the courses in Psychology and Education required for a teaching certificate, including practice teaching in science. Graduates work through the master's degree given in biology and chemistry in order to prepare teachers for the larger high schools or for teaching positions in small colleges.
