

STUDENT PRESENTATION AWARDS AT THE 2007 COLLEGIATE MEETINGS

MIDDLE REGION

TENNESSEE STATE UNIVERSITY
NASHVILLE TENNESSEE

Session I

First Place—Ben Kendrick. Total Antioxidants in Chocolate by the Cupric Ion Reducing Power Assay. Lipscomb University, Nashville, Tennessee

Session II

First Place (tie)—M. M. Engberg. Knee Injuries and Estrogen Levels in Female Athletes. Belmont University, Nashville, Tennessee

First Place (tie)—Eve Niles. Potential Inhibition of Cancer Cell Growth Induced by Green Tea Extracts. Tennessee State University, Nashville, Tennessee

WESTERN REGION

LEMOYNE-OWEN COLLEGE
MEMPHIS, TENNESSEE

ORAL PRESENTATIONS

Social Sciences

First Place—K. Townsend. Diabetes Prevalence Trends among African-Americans and Hispanics: 2001–2003. Christian Brothers University, Memphis, Tennessee

Physiology

First Place—S. Mujahid. Characterization of the Dioctylglycerol Pyrophosphate-Binding Pocket of Lysophosphatidic Acid 3 Receptor. Christian Brothers University, Memphis, Tennessee

Molecular Biology

First Place—S. Minhas. Incorporation of HA into H5N1 Vaccine Virus is Independent of Matrix Gene Origin. Christian Brothers University, Memphis, Tennessee

Physical and Computer Science

First Place—D. Scott. Effect of Biological Fluid Absorption on Lamellar Structure of Ultra-high Molecular Weight Polyethylene. Rhodes College, Memphis, Tennessee

Ecology

First Place—A. Robinson. Tree species selectivity of wintering birds in an urban forest. Rhodes College, Memphis, Tennessee

POSTER SESSION

First Place—K. Andrig. Experimental and Theoretical Challenges of Creating Electrostatic Orbits in Weightlessness. Rhodes College, Memphis, Tennessee